

NOTIFICATION OF ADDITIONAL USE OF TRANSLATION

Your translation of (author, title)

first published as (type of primary use) (year)

will be used in the following way:

- Audio book
- Electronic version
- Printed edition

In accordance with the Standard Translation Contract from 2006 you are entitled to an additional fee of % of the original translation fee indexed in accordance with section 6.1 of the contract, which in this case amounts to NOK

The publisher is hereby entitled to make new impressions and/or editions during the current year plus five calendar years hereafter for printed editions and audio books. For electronic versions, the duration of this right is 36 months from the day of publishing.

Section 6.3 of the Standard Translation Contract states:

If a long time has passed since the first publication, the translator should be given an opportunity to revise the translation, if it is practically feasible and does not cause the publisher disproportionate costs. Linguistic and stylistic changes required to bring the translation up to date with the current linguistic norm will be remunerated separately.

The publisher must be notified within 14 days if, in your opinion, the translation requires revision.

Publication is planned for(date/month/year)

You will receive free copies when the work is published.

....., the

.....

Publisher's signature